*Buenas Noches

que vayas a Puerto Rico otra vez.*

“WE’RE NOT A BRAND NEW SCHOOL ANY MORE.”

Susie Mitchell, Miss JFHS, smiles at the crowd watching the Bedford Christmas Parade.

Summer ends, doors open the halls and classrooms are full once again. If trees could talk . . . if schools could talk! Jefferson Forest is still in its dawning, but its history has already begun. The purpose of this book is to record history in the making, the history of our lives. With this in mind, we, the producers of the 1974 Selvetta dedicate this book to our student lives in 73-74.

Games have their tense moments as shown in the face of an involved fan.

SUMMER PRACTICES

After practice, Alan Boyer deserves a cool drink!

The Majorettes and Drill Team learned to keep time with the band.

A very vital part in the life of a student is summer vacation. Every student looks forward to this vacation and the way in which this vacation is used is totally up to the student . . . in some cases. In others, such as the lives of the members of the band, drill team, majorettes, cheerleaders and football players, the right to choose what they would have rather have done was interfered with by what they knew would have to be—start school two weeks early to practice long and hard hours in the sun. The days may have been hot and tiring but these experiences contributed to a broader view of the school which we attend.

The Marching Band practices in the parking lot.

Sarah Strader is one of the cheerleaders drawing posters to greet the students upon their arrival at school.

Mary Wilburn looks on as Mary Callahan's uniform is fitted.

Students search for their homeroom numbers the first day of school.

Mrs. Martin seems pleased with the effect of the newly arrived uniforms.

YECH!!
SCHOOL'S

AGAIN.

FALL SPORTS

The band increased in size from fifteen the first year to forty this year plus a ten member drill team and five majorettes.

Mrs. Martin conducts the band during a pep rally.

The drill team performs a routine to a Broadway hit.

THE MARCHING CAVALIERS

The band marches onto the field for our first Homecoming half-time show.

Drum major, Doug Carroll, leads the band down the street in the Bedford Christmas Parade.

Doug jives to the music of the band.

Everyone stands at attention as the fanfare is played during practice.

Sylvia Anderson and Janice Everette walk out to line up for marching onto the field.

The majorettes precede the band in the Bedford Christmas Parade.

Donna Staton is first to turn as the marching Cavaliers practice in the parking lot.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Don't just let the ball lay there, sit on it!

Mike Lindsay makes a run to stop an Altavista player.

Burning of the Gretna Hawk before Homecoming.

For the first time, our players, coaches, and entire student body got to experience victory. It has been said that score doesn't determine good or bad. But it's hard to tell that to 1,000 disappointed students and 30 tired players. The season was ended with two wins and eight losses. Three games were lost by only six points.

One of the most admirable traits of this group was that they did not give up. Determination was a great asset to the team. Although they were not as unified as last year, they improved steadily. Attitudes were good. Who knows, if they keep at this speed, next year maybe they'll double the wins!

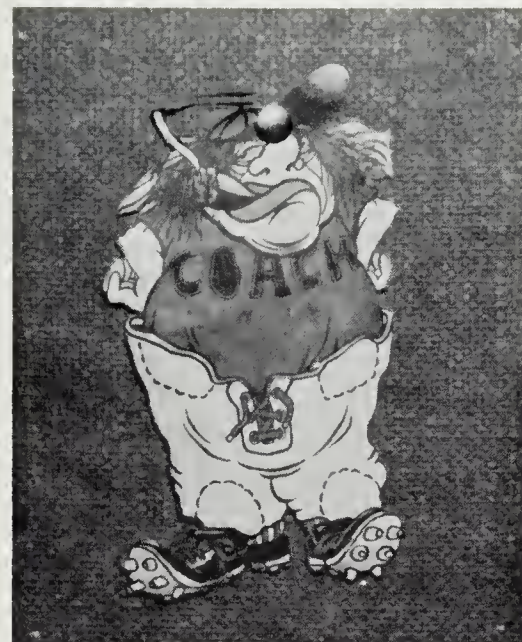

The defense holds back anxious opposition from scoring.

Steve Callaham starts the second half of the Nelson Co. game.

Coach Styles presents Garland Davis with a certificate.

Heading for six points.

Players rush to the aid of a teammate.

The Varsity Cheerleaders began an early season raising money and practicing cheers. By the time the first game came around, we were ready to trave and cheer our Cavaliers to victory! All through the season we sold ribbons to promote school spirit. There were announcements made on the intercom either on school spirit or about an upcoming game.

Then there were our enthusiastic pep rallies including the band, skits, and spiritstick competition.

The most exciting event to take place was the Homecoming game and pep rally. We worked very hard to make the first Homecoming the best. There was a parade, powderpuff football game and the burning of the Gretna dummy.

Our sponsor Miss Charlotte Cook was wonderful during the entire season. She went along with everything we wanted to do. Miss Cook gave us a lot of time and preparation for everything. Thank you!

The cheerleaders shared joy and laughter after a victory and tears and sorrow after a loss. No matter where we went, we were proud to say that we were from Jefferson Forest.

At the beginning of the season, I told Coach Styles that we wouldn't let him down and I hope we didn't. We were behind our Cavaliers and coaches the whole time. We love our school and always will!

Mary Jane Hughes

Head Coach Glen Styles and manager Wayne Whitworth seem to be pondering the actions of some players.

Sitting: Edie Wright, Janice Artrip, Sarah Strader. Middle: Yvonne Thomas, Jenny Breeding. Standing: Shelby Lindsay, Mary Hughes, Billie Jo Tomlin.

VARSITY FOOTBALL CHEERLEADERS

In action.

Yvonne Thomas, Billie Jo Tomlin, Jenny Breeding, and Sarah Strader anxiously await the outcome of a play.

Janice Artrip ends a cheer with a smile.

Mary Jane Hughes—Captain.

Sarah Strader seems to enjoy lunch-time cheering.

Edie Wright stands ready to begin.

For those girls who returned from last year's squad, this year's work seemed much easier. There was also no need for new uniforms. There was need for practice and organization. The girls began by getting Miss Cook to sponsor them, electing Mary Hughes as captain, and beginning to practice in mid-August. They prepared the students for games by putting up posters in the halls and by having pep rallies both at lunch and during classtime. Five seniors, Mary Hughes, Shelby Lindsay, Sarah Strader, Yvonne Thomas and Edie Wright will be leaving the squad this year, but they leave many willing girls behind to continue.

Announcing a cheer.

The cheerleaders move to the music of the band.

Billie Jo Tomlin and Jenny Breeding know that practice is essential.

The J.V. Cheerleaders were placed in charge of Homecoming decorations.

It appears that a little more height was needed than the girls had.

Outdoor pep rallies were often held during the season.

They also entertained indoors.

Connie Smith seems to have gotten a little ahead of the others.

Leslie King, Pauline Roberts, and Anne Moody brought their spirit along to aid the varsity cheerleaders at Homecoming.

J.V. FOOTBALL CHEERLEADERS

Connie Smith, Tammy Humphreys, Teresa Bowles, Anne Moody, Leslie King—Captain, Pauline Roberts, Rhoda Bell, and Donna Lindsay.

The start of another cheer.

Pep rallie's over!

For a squad of inexperienced girls, this eight did a great job. Only one, the captain Leslie King, had any previous experience whatsoever. The girls had to learn cheers very quickly. They worked long and hard hours in the summer jumping and yelling until they were hoarse, in order to do this. A lot of times we wonder what being a cheerleader really means. Is it so important? Ask one of these girls and you will find that it has meant making new friends and having a great time.

They were placed in charge of Homecoming decorations, participated in pep rallies and were always around to render any assistance to the varsity cheerleaders. Only three of these girls will be of varsity age next year. In a few years, we'll be expecting great things from the squad!

Cathy Camden prepares to defend her team.

Donna Hughes waits for her opportunity to bump the ball.

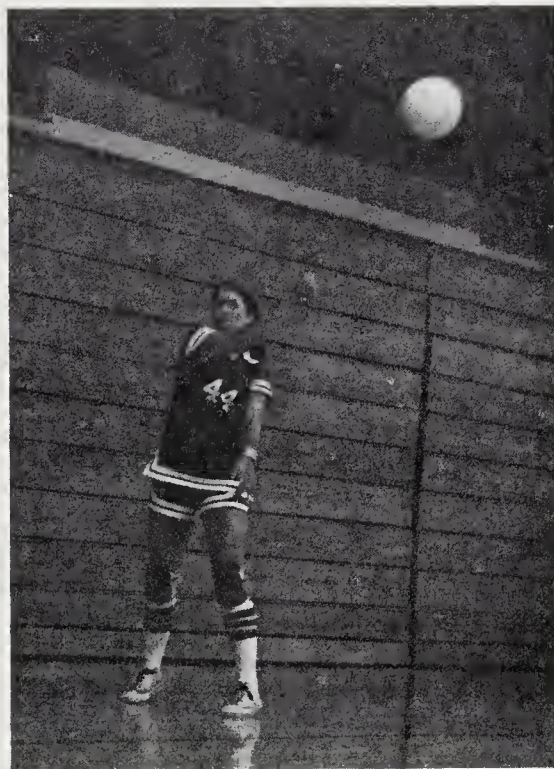

Team spirit!

1973 was the first year for volleyball in the district. The Cavalettes had little or no game experience. Realizing this, coaches Phyllis Buckner and Nancy Seymour, had to start at the bottom and work their way up. Having many losses, the Cavalettes made it to the district tournaments after Gretna and Alta-vista in the playoffs. They also defeated Rustburg, who was third in the district and still climbing upward, and went on to play the first place team, Appomattox. They lost the game to Appomattox, but during the season and tournaments they gained playing experience and confidence which will lead them to a winning season next year.

The Cavalettes ended their season with a two win and six loss record. After their tournaments, they had an overall record of five wins and seven losses. Considering all circumstances, we feel the coaches and Cavalettes had a pretty good year!

The ball is returned to the opposition.

Cathy Camden—Captain

The serve is up!

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

Steve Calloway starts out ahead in the meet with Staunton River.

Our first cross country team had an unusual beginning. The turnout for training as all girls and remained that way until after the first meet. Then boys came. Nobody had experience. The team got a late start in the year and did not run a full schedule. However, good support, effort, and determination were definite assets to the team. Everyone learned something. 90% of the people who ran cross country went out for another sport. Some went to basketball, indoor track, girls' track and spring track. The experience of running in the few meets and on their own made a good foundation for these other sports and hopefully will make a good one for next year.

ADMINISTRATION

Students have begun to lose their respect for teachers as educators and people. They look at a teacher as a person who turns them in when they're not in class and does nothing but yell when they are. We should stop and think of the strain that is placed on a teacher or administrator when he or she is placed in charge of a couple of hundred students per day.

Will it ever be possible for us students to understand that they too, are people?

This years senior class worked together to make the best class they possibly could. They passed through the year quietly with few problems. Members of the class formed a committee to approach the school board about exam exemptions. Their efforts Failed.

When news of the gas shortage came, the students found that many planned activities such as classnight and the picnic might have to be canceled. This was a cause of much disappointment.

The class of '74 will long remember JFHS and hope JFHS will long remember the class of '74

This has been a big year for the junior class. They received their rings at a ring dance held November 16. Soon after that, they sponsored the Scrooge contest. The next feat was to give the Miss Jefferson Forest Pageant April 26.

These projects earned the money necessary to give the class of '74 the great prom that they deserved. There was a lot of work to be done, but you can be sure that they enjoyed it knowing that they will be seniors next year.

SOPHOMORES

As the ninth grade approached it's end, I realized that soon I was going to be a Sophomore. I thought over what this might mean. To me, it seemed that this year should be a special one. After all, you've finally made it to "high school." You've established your basic place in school. Tenth grade is the last year that you can have fun. When you reach the eleventh grade, you're faced with college boards and deciding what you're really going to do with your life. I looked at the tenth grade as all roses—a time to sow my wild oats.

I'm sorry to say that my interpretation was a mistaken one. One of the major jobs of our class was to give the Juniors a Ring Dance. And we wanted it to be the best. We chose a band, committees and sponsors and started to work. We sold tickets, decorated the gym and elected a queen and king. These were only a few of our problems. As did other Sophomores, I worried and worried that the dance would not be successful. But do you know what? It was a success! Our major problem was solved.

We were faced with a few more problems. Lack of school spirit was one. The lack of some students was made up by far by the students who had more than their share. We still never won the Spirit Stick, but we've got two more years to try. I promise that before we graduate we're going to have it too!

This year's Freshmen began to organize by electing class officers at the end of last year as did the other classes. This was an improvement over the year before in which there were none.

The class managed to muster up enough spirit to help the teams at games and to win the spirit stick at pep rallies.

Hopefully the class has learned enough in the last two years to be able to give the class of '76 the best ring dance ever.

VARSITY BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS

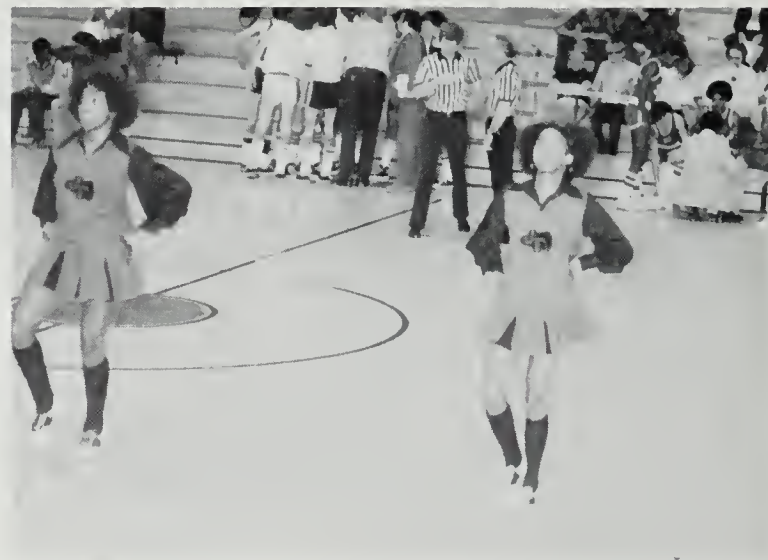

What can you say about a cheerleader? Of course you can make generalizations such as that they are pretty and athletic. They have to uphold the standards of the school. But is that all there is? Some people think so. They don't know that they have to cheer until they're hoarse and jump until their muscles are sore. They aren't aware of the nights when the girls are forced to cheer when they don't want to or aren't allowed to cheer when they wanted because they missed a practice. There are the complications of finding a sponsor like Miss Wilkerson, one who'll work and electing dependable captains. Why, many times, the girls can not even agree on a cheer!

Mascot for the season was Denise Rouse.

Left to right: B. Johnson, L. Austin, B. Busch, G. McCabe, B. Fortney, D. Johnson.

J. Spinner, J. Calloway.

S.C.A. LED BY EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

President Orran Brown swears in next year's president Steve Timmons.

Mary Jane Hughes reads the minutes of the last meeting.

It may be said that the student body has heard very little of the S.C.A., but it cannot be said that they have done very little. In October, the executive council attended the district workshop which was held at Staunton River. There, our school gained recognition in other schools. Members sold cards to earn money to paint a Cavalier on the gym floor.

The school store served as the biggest source of income for the organization. This, along with working to get more privileges such as the smoking area and exam exemptions were services to the school. Committees were formed to improve the student lounges and to aid in improving the lunches.

There were problems in getting homeroom representatives to report back to their homerooms, and in getting exams exempt, but there will be next year's group to correct them.

High School Report was done weekly on WILL by Angela Knight. SCA reporter.

The four senior officers show the cups that they received for service.

Shelby Lindsay takes money for the cards that were sold.

Orran Brown presides over the last meeting.

One project was sponsoring this float in Bedford's Christmas parade.

Darrel Ross finds that the school store sells more Certs than pencils.

Students participate in Mr. Toms room at a monthly meeting.

The Amerechos, a group from Amherst High was guest of the S.C.A. for an assembly.

A student admires posters put up in the student lounge.

Past treasurer Shelby Lindsay swears in newly elected Angela Knight.

Enjoying the banquet.

The first meeting of the Beta Club was held September 19, 1973. As a product of this meeting, forty new members were tapped into the club during two assemblies held October 4.

The Beta Club Banquet was held Nov. 19 to induct the new members. During the year, the club worked to raise money through bake sales. Members also collected Toys for Tots as a public service project. The club sponsored Bonnie Cornelius as a candidate for State Beta Club secretary. Although Bonnie was not elected, the club gained a great deal through working on the campaign. A bloodmobile was also sponsored. Not only was the quota met but it was the most successful in the area.

On May 27, three contestants were sponsored on WDBJ's Classroom Kwiz. They were victorious two weeks in a row, but were defeated by a measly ten points the third week.

FOR A SPRING DELIVERY

There were many handicaps which hindered the production of this year's book. There was first, a lack of interested workers, no place to work and lack of organization. Because work could not be done early in the year, it had to be done in the summer. What a wonderful way to spend the first weeks of your summer vacation—going to school to work!

Greg Allen can't believe that the shipment is due tomorrow!

Just trying to liven up the meetings!

Three editors, Yvonne Thomas, Nancy Watts, and Dawn Hensley discuss a paper layout.

This year's newspaper staff consisted of those taking Journalism. The class was large, but the weight of the work was left on just a few. By the help of those advertising in the paper and a few fund raising activities, the staff was able once again to have the paper printed in Bedford.

Five issues were published to keep the students informed of school and local events.

Unfortunately, Journalism may only be taken for one year, therefore, we will lose these workers.

Jan Wright, a Liberty student, gives pointers to the club on preparing projects.

A school science fair was held in February prior to the county science fair. There were seven projects entered in the school and county fairs representing JFHS. Nicky Markham was awarded the outstanding science project from Jefferson-Forest at the county fair.

One of the sights seen on the Washington trip.

Those students who entered projects in the science fairs presented them at the club meeting in March. They were: Gigi Strader, Martha Fainter, Julia Rosser, Lynn Hatcher, Nicky Markham, Steve Timmons, Marshall Evans, and Ricky Routon.

Jan Wright, a senior at Liberty, spoke at the February meeting on one of his science projects. He gave helpful suggestions as to how students could organize a meaningful and valuable project.

All students interested in flying were able to experience it at New London. Bruce Little was in charge of this activity.

Mr. Tibbs spoke at the May club meeting on Air Traffic Control.

The highlight of the club year was the trip to Washington to tour the Smithsonian Institute on May 4, 1974.

Two slaves carry out the orders given them by Mike McDaniel.

The Latin Club had a very successful year. Not only did it increase in size, but also in the scope of its activities. Activities began with a blast and a splash as the club members participated in two pizza parties and a swimming venture with other language groups.

Have you ever heard of Roman ghosts? Many were present at the Halloween Party. The Latin Club went all out as members went to the Town House for the first annual Roman Banquet. The club became more serious as it mourned the death of Julius Caesar in the Ides of March play.

Pernie Hatcher shows female power on Women's Lib Day in Rome

As the year ended, the club was still quite active. Masters had an opportunity to show their superiority over their slaves as they participated in the festivities of Day in Old Rome.

The school year ended with an enjoyable trip to the Peaks where the slaves were finally freed by their masters and given equal citizenship.

The club was also active in the summer as a few students traveled abroad with the sponsor to Italy.

This year was one characterized by the sampling of much food, a little swimming, skating, and ball. Most of these activities took place with the other foreign language clubs, but there were a few activities which only the French and German students could participate in. There was of course, Octoberfest for the German students and French week for the French. During both of these, the students danced to the music of the countries, ate their food and played their games. In the midst of a lot of fun, the students learned a lot about France and Germany.

Over the Easter vacation, Chuck Cole, Susan King and Johnny Shelor joined Mr. Sowell on a tour to France, England and Belguim. The slides from this trip were the highlight of the year.

Spanish Art

This year the Spanish Club was very active with the initiation of new club members, planning club activities, and a picnic. They participated in a swimming party at Lynchburg College with other foreign language clubs. The Spanish Club was co-sponsor of a Spanish dancing group who came and performed for the student body. The Jefferson-Forrest Spanish Club sponsors someone to represent them in a dance at Roanoke. This summer several club members and Mrs. Owen are going on a trip to Puerto Rico. Looking back on the year the Spanish Club had a pretty good year. Since they had every thing from a car wash to selling doughnuts to raise money for the trip.

The Tri-Hi-Y is one of the lesser known organizations of the school. They held bake sales and car washes to earn money for such worthy causes as taking food and clothes to the needy on both Christmas and Easter. The girls cleaned the school grounds in the spring and had a picnic afterwards at the home of club president India Cann. Also in the spring, five club members and Mrs. Stennette attended the Model General Assembly held in Richmond. So you see, even the lesser known organizations are a great benefit to the school!

CAREER DAY INFORMS STUDENTS

The students got a chance to take a look at prospective careers when representatives from 30 different trades took time out from their busy schedules to visit the school.

Trades ranging from the F.B.I. to truck driving were included in the program.

The program, sponsored by the guidance department, will be held every three years.

Mrs. Woodson, a coordinator of the program, keeps an eye out.

The 8th and 9th graders were entertained by experts in the Martial Arts.

Mr. Rice introduces the representatives.

It seems that Women's Lib plans to take over the Police Force.

Pamphlets were available to interested students.

The Armed Forces occupied the library.

Pam Pillow and Pat Surber listen to the social worker.

A friendly little conference.

The new and well deserved smoking lounge.

The championship trophy of the softball team rests on Miss Seymour's desk.

Bruce Evans prepares to capture a snipe.

Returning to substitute is Teresa Brown.

I would like to take this space to thank the many people who were given no credit earlier in the book. First, come Mrs. Childress and Mr. Creasman who devoted many hours trying to be of assistance to us. They were constantly concerned and we appreciate it. Then there is my mother who put up with the year-book and having to take me places all summer long in order to get this "thing" published.

There are also several students. Cindy Arthur remained to work even after she had graduated. Many days I called her at Coleman Falls and asked her to drive to Forest to work on the book. Landon Knight, my unsuspecting brother, was asked to identify a large amount of the people and, at the spur of the moment, to complete the index. Thanks also go to Laura Reynolds, who worked on the index when she was a guest at my home, and once again those who stayed faithfully after school to work. Especially Mike McDaniel.

Coach Styles donated the greatest part of our decent pictures and we greatly appreciated this service.

Last of all, we would like to thank those contributing copy and information.

Thank you for being tolerant of this late book.

Success

If a man has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know.

"Reserved"

Dawn,
To a nice girl whom I've known just about all of my life. Remember all the good times we've had.
Best of luck with Rick or whoever. Always let God lead your life and try to be good. Love in Christ, Deborah

Dawn,
Best of luck always
to a really nice person. I sincerely hope everything works out with you and Ricky
for the very best.
Lily

Dawn,
Well, if my writing seems scibbly
it's because of the bus!
Best of luck to a really sweet girl. Good luck with Rick! You deserve a guy! Next year is your last in high school so live it up. Be good and keep smiling. May
God Bless you.

In Him,
Cathy

Good luck and a very good future

Dawn,

It needless to say - "Not to forget Puerto Rico" because I know you won't, especially the night I went crazy and kept y'all awake. Be good and don't let Nancy talk you into wrecking Big Island.

Dawn
thanks for helping us in Spanish
You are really great

Dawn, Good luck
in the future to a sweet and cute girl why didn't you check for me to Spanish? Pam 1971

Dawn, Good luck to you "Betsy". Don't forget all the good times we had up at your Gracemother's house
and all the football games and parties and afterwards
Good luck with Richy even though you don't need it.

Dawn, It's great to have a friend
like you and especally since you're from Big Island.
I really miss the Big Island bunch the since I'm in Explorers and I visit everybody
good luck with the big city.
but I don't need it!

Dawn
all the luck to
a really smart person.
Our Spanish class would never make it without your help. Take care of all the papers and books that you and Nancy attempt at the creating in the future. Kathy

Best of luck to a good ole' gal Betty. Always remember Ole' Duke and the gang from the corral and all of our adventures. Never forget those wild parties after equally wild football games and drinking muck all night. Also our camping trip and how the zipper broke... We're great explorers - aren't we? Tell me when you graduate and you and I'll come and cry for you, but only if you cry for me this year! I'll have more to write in the next yearbook cause I'm sure more will happen between now & then. The bell rang. Be good & take care.

Dawn,
 As usual I don't know what to write,
 so the only thing I can think to say is this has been a fun and exciting year with you in my homeroom. Good luck in the future.
 Love,
 Sherry

Dawn? or DH
 was it lost?
 Have fun and good luck.
 I hope your next issue of the Declaration is the best yet.
 Bye.
 Nicky Markham
 P.S. Have fun in Murphy's
